Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
- 5. Claims 1-6, 8-16, and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,941,457 to Gundavelli et al., hereinafter Gundavelli.
- 6. As per claim 1, Gundavelli discloses an environment that includes a plurality of users, wherein each user possess secrets that are shared by respective sets of said plurality of users, a secret updating method, comprising:
- (a) updating at least one compromised secret known by at least one evicted user using at least one non-compromised secret that is not known by said at least one evicted user (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- 7. Regarding claim 2, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updating comprises updating a plurality of compromised secrets (column 11, lines 6-18, i.e. techniques are applicable in which members are deleted).

Art Unit: 2131

- 8. Regarding claim 3, Gundavelli discloses wherein said updating comprises updating all compromised secrets (column 11, lines 18-25, i.e. remaining members use newly established secret key).
- 9. Regarding claim 4, Gundavelli discloses wherein said updating comprises updating at least one compromised secret known by one evicted user (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- 10. With regards to claims 5, 14, and 15, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updating occurs upon an eviction event, wherein only said second user or the second user and one or more other users are evicted (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-18, i.e. member departs, members are deleted).
- Regarding claim 6, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updating comprises updating at least one compromised secret known by a plurality of evicted users (column 11, lines 6-18, i.e. techniques are applicable in which members are deleted).
- Regarding claim 8, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updating comprises updating a compromised secret using one non-compromised secret (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).

Art Unit: 2131

- 13. Regarding claim 9, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updating comprises updating a compromised secret known by a set of users using a non-compromised secret of a subgroup of said set of users (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- 14. Regarding claim 10, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updating does not use new secret information (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- 15. Regarding claim 11, Gundavelli teaches wherein said compromised secret is shared by said plurality of users (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- Regarding claim 12, Gundavelli teaches wherein said secrets enables secure communication (column 11, lines 15-18, i.e. multicast group can communicate over a secure channel).
- 17. As per claim 13, Gundavelli teaches an environment that includes a plurality of users, wherein a first user possesses a set of keys, said set of keys including a first key that enables secure communication among a set of sets, said set of users including at least said first user and a second user, a keying method, comprising:
- (a) upon eviction of at least said second user, determining an updated first key using information that includes said first key and a second key, wherein said second key enables secure communication among a subgroup of said set of users, wherein said subgroup does not include users subject to said eviction (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39, i.e. forming new group with no evicted users).

- Regarding claim 16, Gundavelli teaches wherein said determining uses a function having 18. the following properties:
- (1) knowledge of said updated first key does not give knowledge of said first key or said second key. (2) knowledge of said first key does not give any knowledge of said updated first key, and (3) knowledge of said first key and said updated first key does not give any knowledge of said second key (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- Regarding claim 19, Gundavelli teaches wherein said determining uses only said first key 19. and said second key (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- Regarding claims 20 and 21, Gundavelli teaches wherein said subgroup includes only 20. said first user or a plurality of users (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- Claims 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 21. 6,240,188 to Dondeti et al., hereinafter Dondeti.
- As per claim 28, Dondeti teaches a keying method in an environment having a plurality 22. of users, each user being capable of storing a set of keys that enable secure communication among sets of said plurality of users, comprising:

Art Unit: 2131

(a) distributing first information that enables users to update, after eviction of one or more users, a set of compromised keys that are known to said one or more users without receiving new key information (column 8, line 43 to column 9, line 19).

- 23. Regarding claim 29, Dondeti discloses wherein said first information includes information that enables identification of a one-way function (column 3, line 64 to column 4, line 21).
- 24. Regarding claim 30, Dondeti teaches wherein said first information includes information that enables identification of said evicted one or more users (column 8, line 43 to column 9, line 19).
- 25. Claims 38 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,295,361 to Kadansky et al., hereinafter Kadansky
- 26. As per claims 38 and 39, Kadansky discloses a secret sharing system, comprising:

a key server that distributes secret information to a plurality of users, wherein each user is sent secrets that are shared by respective sets of said plurality of users, said key server being operative to update at least one compromised secret known by at least one evicted user at least one non-compromised secret that is not known by said at least one evicted user (column 1, line 66 to column 2, line 61).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 27. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 28. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gundavelli in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,178,244 to Takeda, hereinafter Takeda.
- 29. With regards to claim 7, Gundavelli does not teach wherein said updating occurs on a periodic basis.
- 30. Takeda teaches wherein said updating occurs on a periodic basis (column 12, lines 38-43).
- 31. Both Gundavelli and Takeda both disclose updating keys for group communication.
- 32. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to update the keys on a periodic basis, since Gundavelli states at column 7, lines 25-38, that the communication occurs over the Internet and therefore may be subject to sniffing, or the spying of packets. Therefore, one of ordinary skill would recognize that changing the key periodically would make it more difficult for an eavesdropper to intercept group communications.
- 33. Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gundavelli in view Dondeti.

Application/Control Number: 09/836,214 Page 8

Art Unit: 2131

34. With regards to claim 17, Gundavelli does not disclose wherein said determining uses a one-way function.

- 35. Dondeti teaches wherein said determining uses a one-way function (column 3, line 64 to column 4, line 21).
- 36. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to determine the new key using a one-way function, since Dondeti states at column 4, lines 7-21 that such a modification would make it computationally infeasible to compute the key.
- 37. Concerning claim 18, Gundavelli teaches wherein said updated first key is equal to F(first key, second key) (column 5, lines 47-63, column 11, lines 6-39).
- 38. Gundavelli does not teach wherein F() is a one-way function.
- 39. Dondeti teaches wherein F() is a one-way function (column 3, line 64 to column 4, line 21).
- 40. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to determine the new key using a one-way function, since Dondeti states at column 4, lines 7-21 that such a modification would make it computationally infeasible to compute the key.
